

Industrial saline impaired effluents (brines) are an environmental challenge and an economic opportunity: Explore new circular economy business models with us at TU Delft!

1st stakeholder consultation event
for the HORIZON 2020 ZERO BRINE project

CO-DESIGN WORKSHOP

Date: 12 March 2018

Time: 12:00 – 17:00

Place: TU Delft , faculty of Applied Sciences (building 58), room A1.140

Part I

12.00 – Lunch

12.15 – Presentation: introduction to ZERO BRINE project

12.25 – Presentation: TAKE BACK CHEMICALS project

12.35 – Presentation: tools and methods for business model innovation

12.50 – Break out session: explore business model ideas for material recovery

13.50 – Break

Part II

14.00 – Group discussion: reflections on Part I

14.15 – Presentation: the case of Evides within ZERO BRINE

14.30 – Presentation: policy aspects

14.45 – Break out session: define business model ideas for ZERO BRINE

15.45 – Coffee break

Part III

16.00 – Presentation: Holland as circular economy hotspot

16.15 – Plenary discussion

16.30 – Closure

Speakers:

Dimitris Xevgenos (SEALEAU)

Steve Lemain (RHDHV)

Brian Baldassarre (TU DELFT)

Koen de Kruif (DCMR)

Corinne van Voorden (RVO)

See you there!

This project ZERO BRINE has received funding from the European Union's Horizon 2020 research and innovation programme under grant agreement No 730390.